

FROM THE MAGAZINE

The Best South of France Hotels and Restaurants for an Art-Filled Road Trip

by Jay Cheshes
July 1, 2026

Saint-Paul-de-Vence

The Toile Blanche hotel
Courtesy of Toile Blanche

The artists who began frequenting La Colombe d'Or in the 1920s often traded their work for food and lodging. Today the boho-chic hotel is filled with priceless works, from the Calder mobile by the pool to the Fernand Léger mosaic on the restaurant's terrace. The art and architecture are more contemporary at Toile Blanche, a boutique hotel with its own sculpture park and suites with private pools, run by artists turned hoteliers Gilles, Gregory, and Nicolas Leroy, who make art together as the Leroy Brothers. The top spot for lunch in the area is the museum restaurant Sous Les Pins, in the garden of the Fondation Maeght, operated by the team behind the popular Nice restaurant Les Agitateurs.